It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Mr. Codman of Boston offered the following resolutions, which, at his request, were laid over until tomorrow :—

JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Concerning the Acts of the Army of the United States in the State of Louisiana.

Louisiana.

WHEREAS, it is a fundamental constitutional right that republican legislative bodies should be judges of the qualifications of their members; and whereas, any invasion of this right is contrary to the constitution of the United States, which guarantees to every State a republican form of government; and whereas, no local violence in any State can justify the additional and more dangerous violence of unconstitutional remedies; therefore,

Resolved, That the Legislature of Massachusetts has heard with concern and alarm that the soldiers of the United States army have appeared in the hall of the house of representatives of the State of Louisiana, and that the military authorities of the United States have assumed to determine the validity of the election of members of the Legislature of that State, and have proceeded, by armed force, to remove such persons as, in their judgment, were not members thereof.

Resolved, That this Legislature, unwilling to believe that any violation of the rights of the States has been intended or will be countenanced by the President of the United States, is yet constrained to declare that the reported acts of the military authorities of the United States in the State of Louisiana are subversive of the rights of the States and of the liberties of the people; and this Legislature does solemnly protest against them, and does respectfully call upon the President of the United States to take such action as will relieve the national government from the responsibility of sustaining them.

Louisiana. The following resolutions were referred, in concurrence, to the committee on Federal Relations :—

RESOLUTIONS

In relation to Federal Interference with the Legislature of Louisiana.

WHEREAS, by time-honored and uniform usage, all parliamentary bodies are and of right ought to be, and of necessity must be, the sole judges of the returns, elections and qualifications of their members, and with this prerogative of every State in the Union neither the Executive of any State or any branch of the Federal Government has the right to interfere ;

AND WHEREAS, the people of Massachusetts have learned with alarm that the legislature of a sister State, convened and organized, and peaceably conducting its proceedings, has, upon the call of the acting Executive of the State, while the legislature was in session, been forcibly invaded by a military force, acting under the orders of the President of the United States, and certain of its members, declared by the House of Representatives duly elected and entitled to their seats, have been removed by force and arms from the legislative hall ; therefore

Resolved, That the people of Massachusetts regard the recent action of the President of the United States in Louisiana as an unwarranted attack upon the sovereignty of the States, upon republican usages, and upon representative government itself ; and, if allowed to pass unchallenged, a dangerous stride towards centralization and the subversion of local self-government.

Resolved, That Massachusetts tenders to all the people of Louisiana who are in favor of government of the people, by the people, and for the people, her profound sympathy, and pledges to her oppressed compatriots in Louisiana her cordial coöperation in all constitutional and peaceful ways in behalf of a cause as dear to the hearts of all lovers of civil liberty as that to which our fathers pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

The Bill to amend chapter 124 of the General Statutes, relating to the arrest of persons on mesne process, was read a second time.

Mr. Pierce of Milton raised the point of order, that under the 47th rule of the House, the bill was improperly reported by the committee on Mercantile Affairs, and could not be considered. The rule provides that when a bill, order, etc., has been finally rejected, no measure substantially the same shall be introduced by any committee or member during the same session. It appeared that an order was adopted by the House, January 18, that the committee on the Judiciary consider the expediency of certain legislation. The committee reported that it was inexpedient to legislate, and the House, January 23, accepted the report. On the 9th of February, a bill was introduced, on leave, in the Senate, and referred to the committee on the Judiciary of that branch. That committee reported that the bill ought not to pass, but the Senate referred the bill to the joint committee on Mercantile Affairs, and the House, March 6, concurred in the reference. The last-named committee, March 24, reported in the House, in a new draft, the bill now under consideration.

The Speaker ruled that it appeared, on comparison of the order adopted by the House, January 18, and the bill now under consideration, that both proposed substantially the same legislation, and that the bill was therefore substantially the same "measure" as that proposed by the order; that the measure proposed by the order having been once finally rejected by the House, the same measure could not be again introduced, or reported in the House in the form of a bill; and that it made no difference how the subject-matter originated, or came before the committee reporting such bill. The Chair accordingly ruled that the point of order was well taken by the gentleman from Milton (Mr. Pierce), and the bill must be laid aside. And the bill was laid aside.

Mr. Codman of Boston being in the chair, Mr. Sanborn of Boston offered the following resolution :—

Thanks to the Speaker.

Resolved, That the thanks of the House are due, and are hereby cordially tendered, to the Hon. John E. Sanborn, for the able, dignified and impartial manner in which he has performed the duties of the chair during the present session, to the entire satisfaction of the House, and to the great advantage of the public service.

After remarks by Messrs. Sanborn, Kimball, Tompkins and Stearns of Boston, Whitney of Attleborough, Long of Hingham, Copeland of Springfield, Gaylord of Northampton, Fuller of Boston, Bowman of Somerville, Baker of Beverly, Stone of Northampton, Noble of Truro, Noble of Westfield, Hillman of Chilmark, May of Leicester, Rice of Worcester, Allen of Duxbury, Flower of Agawam, Savery of Wareham, Ropes of Boston, and Blaney of Peabody, the resolutions were unanimously passed by a rising vote.

The Speaker resumed the chair, and spoke as follows :—

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I am deeply sensible of your kindness in placing on record a tribute which does me so much honor. At this hour, which draws our session to a close, no words can give me a satisfaction so sincere and full as those which assure me of your approval.

It has been my good fortune, now, for five consecutive years, to serve in this assembly. The confidence of my own constituency, so often and generously bestowed, has commended me to the wider confidence of the representatives of the people; and, during four of these years, the choice of my fellow-members has assigned to me the duties and honors of the chair. For more than a generation past, no one of those who have preceded me in this position has held it for a longer time. It is fitting, therefore, that with the hour that dissolves my relation to you I take my leave of the Speaker's chair.

I cannot go from this hall without a hearty avowal of the respect for the Massachusetts House of Representatives, which every year of observation has strengthened and confirmed. In the earliest period of our colonial history, the Representative Assembly sprung into existence, though without warrant in the charter, as an essential feature of a government by the people. It played a conspicuous part through all the controversy between king and freemen which preceded the final appeal to arms. As the Provincial Congress, it was the first independent legislative body that met in Massachusetts, or America.

The patriotic and eminent men whose names have adorned the roll of its membership, and the fidelity with which it has reflected the ideas and maintained the rights of a free people, have given it a permanent place and power among our institutions. Standing, as the democratic part of our system, so near to the people, it does not challenge the popular reverence. It invites, rather, the free and sharp criticism with which peer judges peer, and the sovereign the servant. The highest tribute that can be paid to the House of Representatives is the public confidence, and that tribute it has never failed to win and to deserve.

The loyalty to the rules of order and decorum, the freedom from personal and political asperities, the form and manner of procedure and debate, which have made this a model deliberative assembly,—so far as I can learn without anywhere a superior,—have also made the position of its presiding officer one of peculiar privilege and honor. Whatever else in the fortunes of life I may forget, I shall hold in lasting memory the associations and ties which have been formed in this chamber. I cannot forget the indulgence and courtesy received from all, without distinction of party, over whom I have had the honor to preside, and from none more than from you whom I now address. However else I may have failed, I should have been unworthy of your trust, if I had not striven to act with justice and impartiality, or had been conscious of any other motive than the public good.

Our session, gentlemen, though longer than we had hoped, has been shorter by three weeks than the average for the last ten years, and the shortest, with one exception, during that period. By the favor of a kind Providence, we all return to our homes. We shall separate, I am sure, with mutual kindness and regard. If any of us have erred in word or thought, it shall be forgotten here and now.

To our accomplished Clerk, whose courtesy and skill have left nothing to be desired in a recording officer; to the reverend Chaplain, for the appropriate and acceptable manner in which he has discharged his sacred office; to the Sergeant-at-Arms, and all of his assistants, for their cheerful and assiduous attentions, I desire to return our common acknowledgments.

It only remains that I give to you, as I do most cordially, the greeting of farewell. I renew to you, one and all, my gratitude and thanks. I send with you, as you shall go to your homes, my heartfelt wishes for your prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Long of Hingham offered the following resolution, which was unanimously passed by a rising vote:—

Thanks to the Clerk.

Resolved, That the thanks of the House be extended to the Clerk for the eminently satisfactory manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office during the present session of the Legislature.

Mr. May of Leicester offered the following resolution, which was unanimously passed:—

Thanks to the Chaplain.

Resolved, That the House, appreciating the appropriate manner in which the Chaplain, the Rev. Robert G. Seymour, has conducted the religious services of the session, extend him their thanks, and their sincere sympathy in the bereavement he has recently sustained.

Mr. Hill of Boston offered the following resolution, which was unanimously passed:—

Thanks to the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Resolved, That the House extends its thanks to the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants for the courteous and faithful performance of their official duties during the present session of the Legislature.

On motion of Mr. Noble of Westfield, the House took a recess until 7 o'clock.

THE SPEAKER.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair at the hour to which the House stands adjourned, call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum proceed to business.

2. He shall preserve decorum and order; may speak to points of order in preference to other members; and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House.

[With regard to appeals, see Rules 81 and 92.]

3. He shall declare all votes, subject to verification as hereinafter provided.

[See Rules 63 to 67.]

4. In all cases he may vote.

5. He shall rise to put a question, or to address the House, but may read sitting.

6. He shall each day examine the journal of the House.

7. He may name a member to perform the duties of the chair for a period not exceeding two days at one time.

8. In case of a vacancy in the office of Speaker, or in case the Speaker or the member named by him in accordance with the preceding rule, is absent at the hour to which the House stands adjourned, the senior monitor present shall call the House to order, and shall preside until a Speaker pro tempore or a Speaker is elected by ballot, which shall be the first business in order.

MONITORS.

9. Two monitors shall be appointed by the Speaker for each division of the House, whose duty it shall be to see to the due observance of the Rules and Orders, and on request of the Speaker to return the number of votes and members in their respective divisions.

10. If a member transgress any of the Rules and Orders after being notified thereof by a monitor, it shall be the duty of such monitor to report the case to the House.

[For duty of monitor in case of the absence of the Speaker, see Rule 8.] [See Rule 20.]

CLERK.

11. The Clerk shall keep the journal of the House. He shall enter therein a record of each day's proceedings and submit it to the Speaker before the hour fixed for the next sitting.

12. Every question of order shall be noted in the journal, and with the decision shall be entered at large in an appendix, which shall also contain the Rules and Orders of the House and of the two branches.

13. The Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed each day a calendar of matters in order for consideration; followed by a brief minute of the preliminary proceedings of the previous day; a list of matters lying on the table; and such other memoranda as the House or the Speaker may direct.

14. Any objection to the calendar shall be made and disposed of before the House votes to proceed to the consideration of the Orders of the Day.

15. The Clerk shall retain bills and other papers, in reference to which any member has a right to move a reconsideration (except petitions, enacted bills, orders of inquiry and orders of notice), until the right of reconsideration has expired: provided, that the operation of this rule shall be suspended during the last week of the session.

MEMBERS.

16. No member shall stand up, to the inconvenience of others, while a member is speaking; or pass unnecessarily between the Speaker of the House and the member speaking; or stand in the passages, or in the area in front of the chair.

17. No member shall be absent more than two days without leave of the House.

18. No member shall leave the House before the consideration of the Orders of the Day is finished.

19. Papers in possession of a member obtaining leave of absence, or at the end of the session, shall be left by him with the Clerk.

20. If a member is guilty of a breach of any of the Rules and Orders, he may be required by the House, on motion, to make satisfaction therefor, and, until he has done so, he shall not be allowed to vote or speak, except by way of excuse.

[See Rule 10.]

COMMITTEES.

21. At the beginning of the political year, eleven Standing Committees, to consist of seven members each, shall be appointed, as follows:—

- A Committee on the Judiciary;
- A Committee on Matters of Probate and Chancery;
- A Committee on Finance;
- A Committee on Elections;
- A Committee on Bills in the Third Reading;
- A Committee on Engrossed Bills;
- A Committee on County Estimates;
- A Committee on the Pay Roll;
- A Committee on Leave of Absence;
- A Committee on Public Buildings;
- A Committee on Printing.

22. Unless other provision is made in any case, all committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, and the member first named shall be chairman.

23. In case of the election of a committee by ballot, the member having the highest number of votes shall be chairman.

24. No member shall be required to be on more than two committees at the same time, nor chairman of more than one.

25. No member shall serve on any committee in any question where his private right is immediately concerned distinct from the public interest.

26. The Committee on Finance shall report in appropriation bills, only such items of expenditure as are authorized by law, or such as the committee has been directed by the House to insert.

27. The Committee on Bills in the Third Reading shall examine and correct the bills which are referred to it, for the purpose of avoiding repetitions and unconstitutional provisions, insuring accuracy in the text and references, and consistency with the language of existing statutes : provided, that any change in the sense or legal effect shall be reported as an amendment.

28. The Committee on Engrossed Bills shall carefully examine and compare engrossed bills, and report them rightly and truly engrossed, when found to be so.

29. When the object of an application, whether by petition, order or bill introduced on leave, can be secured without a special act under existing general laws, the committee to which the matter is referred shall report leave to withdraw, inexpedient to legislate, or ought not to pass, as the case may be.

30. No bill affecting the rights of individuals or private or municipal corporations shall be reported by a committee, unless notice has been given to all parties interested, by public advertisement or otherwise, without expense to the Commonwealth; or unless satisfactory evidence is produced that the parties interested have either received notice in writing, or have in writing waived notice.

31. On or before the twenty-second day of March, committees shall make final report upon matters referred to them prior to that day, unless further time is granted, for cause.

Committee of the Whole.

32. When the House determines to go into a committee of the whole, the chairman shall be appointed by the Speaker.

33. The rules of the House shall be observed in a committee of the whole, so far as they may be applicable, except the rules limiting debate. A motion to rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again, shall be always first in order, and be decided without debate.

REGULAR COURSE OF PROCEEDINGS.

Petitions, etc., and Reports of Committees.

34. Petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and papers of a like nature, and reports of committees, shall be presented before the House proceeds to the consideration of the Orders of the Day, and the Speaker shall call on the several divisions for such papers.

35. The member presenting a petition, memorial, or remonstrance, shall indorse his name thereon, with a brief statement of the nature and object of the paper, and the reading thereof shall be dispensed with, unless specially ordered.

Papers from the Senate.

36. Papers from the Senate shall be laid before the House by the Speaker, and received for action conformably to such of these Rules and Orders as are applicable thereto, before the House proceeds to the consideration of the Orders of the Day.

Papers addressed to the House, not Petitions.

37. Papers addressed to the House or the General Court, other than petitions, memorials, and remonstrances, or those received from the Senate, may be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place, and shall be read unless it is specially ordered that the reading be dispensed with.

Orders of Inquiry.

38. All motions contemplating legislation, when not founded upon petition, or upon bill proposed to be introduced on leave, shall be made in the form of an order of inquiry, which shall indicate the nature of the legislation proposed; and if reference is made to any particular law, for amendment or otherwise, the order shall specify the chapter and section, as well as the subject to which it relates.

Postponement to the Next Day on Request of a Member.

39. The consideration of any order proposed for adoption, or of any request for leave to introduce a bill, shall be postponed without question to the day after that on which the order is proposed or request made, if any member asks such postponement.

Bills and Resolves.

40. Bills shall be fairly written in a legible hand, without material erasure or interlineation, on not less than one sheet of paper, with suitable margins and spaces between the several sections; dates and numbers being written in words at length.

41. If opposition is made to a bill before it is ordered to a second reading, the question shall be, "Shall this bill be rejected?"

If no opposition is made, or if the question to reject is negatived, the bill shall go to its second reading without a question.

42. Bills involving an expenditure of public money shall, after the first reading, be referred to the Committee on Finance, for report on their relation to the finances of the Commonwealth.

43. Bills from the Senate, after their first reading, shall be referred to a committee of the House, unless they were reported to the Senate by a joint committee.

44. Amendments, proposed by the Senate and sent back to the House for concurrence, shall be referred to the committee which reported the measure proposed to be amended, unless such committee is composed of members of both branches.

45. No bill shall be proposed or introduced unless received from the Senate, reported by a committee, or moved as an amendment to the report of a committee : provided, that the House may grant special leave to a member to introduce a bill ; but when leave is asked for the introduction of a bill, it shall be read for information before the question is put on granting leave ; and if leave is granted, it shall be committed before it is ordered to a second reading.

46. No bill affecting directly the legal rights of individuals or corporations, otherwise than as it affects generally the interests of the whole people of the Commonwealth, or of the cities or towns to which it specifically applies, shall be proposed or introduced, by amendment or otherwise, except by a report of a committee, upon petition duly presented and referred.

47. When a bill, order, petition, memorial or remonstrance has been finally rejected, no measure substantially the same shall be introduced by any committee or member during the same session ; and if an amendment to a House bill is received from the Senate, which amendment is substantially the same as a bill which has been rejected by the House, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to indorse on the paper that the House non-concurs in the amendment, and shall not entertain any motion for any other action thereon.

48. Bills in their third reading shall be referred to the Committee on Bills in the Third Reading for examination, correction and report.

[See Rule 27.]

49. No bill shall pass to be engrossed without having been read on three several days.

50. Engrossed bills shall be referred to the Committee on Engrossed Bills for examination, comparison and report.

[See Rule 28.]

51. No engrossed bill shall be amended.

52. Engrossed bills, reported by the Committee on Engrossed Bills to be rightly and truly engrossed, shall be put upon their passage to be enacted ; and engrossed resolves, when so reported, shall be put upon their passage ; without further reading, unless specially ordered.

53. No engrossed bill shall be sent to the Senate without notice thereof being given by the Speaker.

Orders of the Day.

54. Bills from the Senate, after their first reading, when not referred to a committee of the House, and bills reported to the House by committees, to which no objection is made, or when the question of rejection is negatived, shall be placed in the orders for second reading on the next day.

55. Reports of committees not by bill or resolve shall be placed in the orders of the next day after that on which they are received from the Senate, or made to the House, as the case may be.

56. Bills ordered to a third reading shall be placed in the orders of the next day for such reading.

57. After entering upon the consideration of the Orders of the Day, the House shall proceed with them in regular course, as follows :—Matters not giving rise to a motion or debate shall first be disposed of in the order in which they stand in the calendar ; after which the matters that were passed over shall be considered in like order, and disposed of.

58. When the House does not finish the consideration of the Orders of the Day, those which have not been acted upon shall be the orders for the next and each succeeding day until disposed of, and shall be entered in the calendar, without change in their order, to precede matters added under Rules fifty-four, fifty-five and fifty-six. The unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the time of adjournment, shall have the preference in the orders of the next day, after motions to reconsider.

Special Rules affecting the Course of Proceedings.

[For postponement of Order, etc., to next day, on report of a member, see Rule 39.]

59. No matter which has been duly placed in the Orders of the Day shall be discharged therefrom, or considered out of the regular course.

60. If, under the operation of the previous question or otherwise, an amendment is made at the second or third reading of a bill, substantially changing the greater part of such bill, the question shall not be put forthwith on ordering the bill to a third reading or to be engrossed (as the case may be), but the bill, as amended, shall be placed in the orders of the next day after that on which the amendment is made, and shall then be open to further amendment before such question is put. In like manner, when, under the operation of the previous question or otherwise, an amendment is made in any proposition of such a nature as to change its character, as from a bill to an order, or the like, the proposition as amended shall be placed in the orders of the next day after that on which the amendment was made.

VOTING.

61. No member shall vote in any question where his private right is immediately concerned, distinct from the public interest.

62. Every member not prevented by interest, who is present in the House when a question is put, shall give his vote, unless the House, for special reasons, excuse him. Members desiring to be so excused shall make application to that effect before the House is divided, or before the taking of the yeas and nays is begun. Such application may be accompanied by a brief statement of reasons by the member making it, but shall be decided without debate.

63. When a question is put, the sense of the House shall be taken by the voices of the members, and the Speaker shall first announce the vote as it appears to him by the sound.

64. If the Speaker is unable to decide by the sound of the voices, or if his announcement made thereupon is doubted by a member rising in his place for that purpose, the Speaker shall order a return by divisions of the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative, without further debate upon the question.

[For duty of monitors in case of a division, see Rule 9.]

65. When a return by divisions is ordered, the members for or against the question, when called on by the Speaker, shall rise in their places, and stand until they are counted.

66. The sense of the House shall be taken by yeas and nays, whenever required by one-fifth of the members present. When the yeas and nays are taken, the roll of the House shall be called in alphabetical order, and no member shall be allowed to vote who was not on the floor when his name was called or before the roll-call was finished.

67. The call for the yeas and nays shall be decided without debate. If the yeas and nays have been ordered before the question is put, the proceedings under Rules sixty-three, sixty-four and sixty-five shall be omitted; if not, they may be called for in lieu of a return by divisions when the Speaker's announcement is doubted by a member rising in his place, and if then ordered, the proceedings under Rules sixty-four and sixty-five shall be omitted.

Reconsideration.

68. When a vote has passed (except as provided in the next rule), it shall be in order for any member to move a reconsideration thereof on the same or the succeeding day, and such motion, if made on the same day, shall (except in the last week of the session) be placed first in the orders of the next day after that on which it is made; but if first moved on such succeeding day, it shall be forthwith considered: provided, however, that a motion to reconsider a vote upon any incidental or subsidiary question, shall not remove the main subject under consideration from before the House, but shall be considered at the time when it is made.

69. When a motion for reconsideration is decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered, and no question shall be twice reconsidered; nor shall any vote be reconsidered upon either of the following motions:—

To adjourn;

To lay on the table;

To take from the table; or

For the previous question.

70. Debate on motions to reconsider shall be limited to thirty minutes, and no member shall occupy more than five minutes.

[For Rule requiring the Clerk to retain papers, except, etc., until the right of reconsideration has expired, see Rule 15.]

RULES OF DEBATE.

71. Every member, when about to speak, shall rise and respectfully address the Speaker, shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality ; and shall sit down when he has finished. No member shall speak out of his place without leave of the Speaker.

72. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the member entitled to the floor, preferring one who rises in his place to one who does not.

73. No member shall interrupt another while speaking, except by rising to call to order.

74. No member shall speak more than once to the prevention of those who have not spoken and desire to speak on the same question, nor more than twice on the same question, without leave of the House.

Motions.

75. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker so directs.

76. A motion need not be seconded, and may be withdrawn by the mover if no objection is made.

77. A motion to adjourn shall be always first in order ; and that motion, and the motions to lay on the table and to take from the table, shall be decided without debate.

[For application to be excused from voting, to be decided without debate, see Rule 62.]

[For call for yeas and nays, to be decided without debate, see Rule 67.]

[For questions of order arising after the previous question is moved, to be decided without debate, except on appeal, see Rule 81.]

78. When a question is before the House, until it is disposed of, the Speaker shall receive no motion that does not relate to the same, except the motion to adjourn, or some other motion that has precedence either by express rule of the House, or because it is privileged in its nature ; and he shall receive no motion relating to the same, except :—

To lay on the table ;	See Rule 77, above.
For the previous question ;	See Rules 79-84, below.

Or to postpone indefinitely ;

See Rule 91, below.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged in this rule.

Previous Question.

79. The previous question shall be put in the following form :
"Shall the main question be now put?"—and all debate upon the main question shall be suspended until the previous question is decided.

80. On the previous question, not exceeding ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and that only to give reasons why the main question should not be put, and no member shall speak more than three minutes.

81. All questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question shall be decided without debate, excepting on appeal, and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the House.

[See Rule 92.]

82. The adoption of the previous question shall put an end to all debate except as provided in Rule eighty-four, and bring the House to a direct vote upon pending amendments, if any, in their regular order, and then upon the main question.

Motion to Close Debate at a Specified Time.

83. A motion to close the debate at a specified time, shall be put not less than thirty minutes before the time stated.

[See the next Rule.]

When the Debate is Closed, Ten Minutes Allowed, etc.

84. When debate is closed by ordering the previous question, or by a vote to close debate at a specified time, the member in charge of the measure under consideration shall be allowed to speak ten minutes, and may grant to any other member any portion of his time.

Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain.

85. When a motion is made to postpone to a time certain, and different times are proposed, the question shall first be taken on the most remote time ; and the time shall be determined before the question is put on postponement, which may then be rejected if the House see fit.

Motion to Commit.

86. When a motion is made to commit, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order :—

And a subject may be recommitted to the same committee, or to another committee, at the pleasure of the House.

87. A motion to amend an amendment may be received, but no amendment in the third degree shall be allowed.

88. No motion or proposition, of a subject different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

89. A question containing two or more propositions, capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any member. When a motion to strike out and insert is thus divided, the failure of the motion to strike out shall not preclude amendment ; or, if the motion to strike out prevails, the matter proposed to be inserted shall be open to amendment before the question is taken on inserting it.

90. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time shall be put first.

Equivalent for Motion to Postpone Indefinitely.

91. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall be equivalent to a motion to postpone indefinitely.

APPEAL.

92. No appeal from the decision of the Speaker shall be entertained, unless it is seconded ; and no other business shall be in order until the question on the appeal has been disposed of.

[See Rule 81.]

RESOLVES.

93. Such of these Rules and Orders as are applicable to bills, whether of the House or of the Senate, shall apply likewise to such Resolves as require the concurrence of the Senate and approval by the Governor, in order to become laws and have force as such. Except in Rule fifty-two, the word "bill" shall be equivalent to the word "resolve" in the same place.
